The answer regarding the methodology to apply is not unique but a combination of actions that, through strategies and tactics, gradually correct inaccuracies in inventory control.

One reality is that what is a problem for one is a solution for another. Considering these parameters, part of the solution is to expand the commercial coverage of companies in their own internal markets and in those internationally to recapitalize companies by placing inventories defined as surplus, obsolete or slow moving in other markets.

For this, BST has an excellent process, which translates into joining the BST MARKETING SERVICES program:
